steplechases or other races. The admission is five to ten rubles.

The crowds were not very large.

4. In Riga there are three soccer fields: the Dynamo field (that of the former YMCA) on Kieglu Iela, the field of the former ASK (Army Sporting Club), and the Daugava Stadium. This last is apparently the stadium at the 1905 Gada Parks. Admission is three to five rubles, depending on the location of the seats, and the stadium is always crowded.

5. There are often motorbicycle races in the Meza Parks. The races take place on the streets in the park, and no admission is charged. The spectators sit and stand behind ropes along the roads. There may be some grandstands near the start and finish of the races,
